Our Eventide estate vineyard's unique characteristics include high winds and a north-eastfacing slope, resulting in limited yields and small clusters. These conditions contribute to the development of thick-skinned grapes with vibrant flavors and refreshing acidity.

This Cabernet Sauvignon presents an enticing bouquet, with fig, black cherry, and sage dominating the aroma, accompanied by subtle notes of black tea and fresh earth. The concentration of flavors on the palate is remarkable, offering a full tannin profile mid-palate.

Well-established vines in Stone Valley Vineyard root deep into basalt cobbles. These materials were dispersed by ancient river flows that scoured the valley floor.

Rich aromas of earthy, brambly red fruits, roasted beets, and figs. Powerful yet polished, a persistent palate with concentrated fruit and an attractive hint of baking spice on the finish.
